

An evening of art, an evening of hope: an evening for Drishtipat

Please join Drishtipat for an evening of contemporary South Asian art to be auctioned in support of our programs to help child domestic workers in Bangladesh

Featuring
Leading Bangladeshi Painter

Jamal Ahmed

One of Bangladesh's leading artists, Jamal Ahmed has exhibited at home and internationally for three decades. He works with oil pastels, acrylics and charcoal as his favorite media, his works are realistic yet modern, and his simple compositions evoke the traditional style of Bengali art.

We will also feature works from several other artists such as Nisar Hossain, Abdus Shakoor, Ranjit Das, Kanak Chapa Chakma, as well as Chicago's own Beena John Meledathu!

Drishtipat

works to improve the lives of child domestic workers in Bangladesh. We provide education and training for child workers, advocate for their rights and teach their employers better practices. Every $10K helps us reach 300 employers and change the lives of 500 child workers! Thank you for your commitment to help Drishtipat's work to support child domestic workers in Bangladesh.
